INTIMATIONS.

ATTENTION is directed to the following terms of Policies granted by the STANDARD LIFE OFFICE.
These are Policies by a fixed number of premiums, each premium securing a proportionate part of the sum assured in the event of death. Policy being discontinued. For example, a person who is assured for 21,000 with premiums amounting to 10 years, and who desired to discontinue his payments at the end of 5 years, would receive a Policy for 5500, on which no further or ordinary premiums would be required to be paid.
These Policies are payable to the Life assured on his attaining the age of 45, 50, 55, 60 or 65 or to his representatives, should he die before the age of 65.
These two forms of Policies are especially suitable for residents in the East who are in a position to pay a moderate premium while in receipt of a good income and who do not wish to be burdened with the payment of premiums when they retire to England, or from business.
Full particulars as to rates, &c., may be obtained on application to the Agents, HONGKONG.

Whatever may be said as to the legal aspect of the question, the prohibition of foreigners establishing manufacturing is very unfortunate for China and the Chinese.
There, not long ago, this old custom flourished exceedingly. On the birth of a son, the death of a father, mother, child, brother, sister, and in a hundred new kinds, heads were always received. Every young man, also, had to go out hand-seeking before formally coming of age.
On such occasions hand hunting was held, and the winning bloodstained must have been something fearful, until the present Szechuan took measures to check the evil.
He now stamped it out. He brought this about by making the greedy either by direct imposition, or by the threat of a fine, to abstain from the practice. The custom of Ocho has shown enlightened views in other respects, and is anxious to open up his country.

Since Szechuan and his armor-bearer fell upon their swords and slew themselves, countless numbers of the human race have perished by their hands, and the methods adopted by these unhappy individuals to secure the mortal coil have been almost as various as the causes that led to the act of self-destruction. Scarcely a day passes without some unfortunate creature being found dead, and the news of the death of a person bent on putting an end to his disastrous life is a common occurrence. A Queensland paper gives an account of a Chinese man who had been killed by a "handing in his boots," and one, by the way, that is not likely to find many imitators in this country. He eluded himself with his own pig-tail, and now that he has been found for the purpose of being buried, the police are at the scene, it is to be hoped, Anti-Chinese politicians are reported to have said that it will not be allowed to get rusty—Singapore Free Press.

The extreme heat in Calcutta no doubt affected a great many people in different ways. A Chinese man, named Ahn, who had been somewhat deranged by the excessive heat, and who was a native of the province of Szechuan, was found dead in his room, and a post-mortem examination showed that he had died of a heart affection. He was a man of about 40 years of age, and had been in Calcutta for some time. He

1-What name is given to the empty space at the top of the mercury in a barometer? And what would be the result if a small hole were made in the glass just over the mercury? Give reasons for your answer.
2-What is specific gravity? What is the unit for solids and liquids? What is the unit for gases? (10 marks.)
3-Name the mechanical powers.
4-What are the two kinds of energy? Give an example of each.
5-Why will some small bodies like needles, which are heavier than water, float on its surface?
6-If the pressure of air were removed from the face of the earth, what would be the result in the solid, (10 marks.) (10 marks.) 7-What would be the effect if an air-tight box were filled with gas, and placed under the receiver of an air-pump, when the air was pumped out.
8-What is the difference between music and noise?
9-What is the velocity of sound in air? and how far would it travel in 25 seconds?
10-What are the laws of reflection?
11-If a ray of white light be reflected through a prism what will be the effect?
12-What is electricity? and what are the two kinds?
13-Is the total quantity of electricity on the earth always the same? Give reasons for your answer.

1-How do you prepare hydrogen gas? Make a sketch of the apparatus you would use, and give reasons for the choice of the reaction.
2-An ordinary water bottle is capable of holding, at the ordinary temperature and pressure of the atmosphere, about 14 grains of nitrogen, what weight of hydrogen gas would under the same conditions fill the bottle?
3-How would you distinguish sulphate of magnesium from sulphate of zinc?
4-Explain the difference between a mechanical mixture and a chemical compound. Give examples of each.
5-Write the chemical formulae for the following substances:
Potassium Iodide
Sodium Carbonate
Ammonium Chloride
Calcium Chloride
Copper Sulphate
Sulphuric Acid
Ferrous Sulphate
Antimony Sulphide
6-How would you distinguish a solution of chloride of sodium from a solution of iodide of sodium?
7-How would you prove that carbon dioxide is given off from the lungs in the act of breathing?
8-Describe the principal parts for Arsenic.
9-Describe a simple test for Arsenic.
10-What weight of oxygen can be obtained from 1,000 grains of mercuric oxide, mercury 200, oxygen 16?

ANATOMY—OCTOBER.
Examiners: Dr. A. J. Taylor, M.S.
Dr. C. D. Cantlie.
1-Describe the bones and give examples of each.
2-Describe the lower two inches of the Femur, and the upper two inches of the Tibia.
3-Describe the Scapula.
4-Describe the orbit, stating shape, bony boundaries, the fissures, and foramina connected therewith.
5-What is meant by the term "Mammilla," and what peculiarities of structure and functions determine the class?
6-Describe the mechanism of respiration.
7-Trace the circulation of blood through the heart.
8-Enumerate the valves of the heart, and give the position of the tricuspid and mitral valves.
9-Give the composition, specific gravity, and reaction of healthy urine.
N.B.—Six questions must be answered.

MATERIAL MEDICA.
Examiners: Dr. G. H. Smith, M.S.
Dr. J. D. Jordan.
1-Name the parts of the eye; give the strengths and doses of each.
2-Name the preparations of mercury; and give the doses.
3-What are the preparations of iron? Mention the doses.
4-Give the botanical names of the plants from which Aconite and Scammony are derived.
5-What is the dose of Iodine of Potassium.
6-How much recent is contained in Fowler's Solution.

CHEMICAL OBSERVATIONS.
Examiners: Dr. Patrick Manson, M.S.
Dr. J. D. Jordan.
This examination is a new feature in medical examinations. The students had to examine patients, write out notes of cases, and were carefully examined in clinical chemistry and the instincts of medicine.
BOTANY.
Examiners: Chas. Ford, F.L.S.
Dr. J. D. Jordan.
1-What are the names given to the different divisions of the plant kingdom?
2-Place the names in order, beginning with the highest grade and descending in regular order to the lowest.
3-What are the characteristics of—Monocotyledonous plants
Dicotyledonous plants
Exogenous plants
4-What are the functions of the root, stem, leaves and flower?
5-Give the names of the different tissues, and state what you know in connection with each.
6-Of what use are the plants in the classification of organs and in what is it based?
7-Explain the process of germination of a seed, and apply the correct names to each organ and part of the plantlet after germination has taken place.
8-Give the names and meanings of the terms used in regard to leaves, under the following heads:
a. As to position
b. As to division
c. As to position
d. As to position 9-What is the meaning of the term inflorescence? describe some different kinds of inflorescence.
10-What are the meanings of the following terms used in reference to flowers—
a. Symmetrical
b. Asymmetrical
c. Incomplete
d. Monococious
e. Dioecious 11-What is the name applied to that organ of a composite flower which corresponds to the ovary in other flowers, and explain the chief divisions of the corolla.
12-Describe four different structures of the corolla.
13-Specify four different modes in which flowers are united, and state three methods of cohesion of stamens.
14-Describe the process of fertilization of a dicotyledonous plant.
15-Point up the substances with accurate descriptions of the two kinds of flowers placed before you.

Wong & Co., appeared for the plaintiff, and the Attorney-General (Hon. Mr. O'Malley), instructed by Messrs. Sharp, Johnson, and Stokes, for the defendant.

Emile R. Mabry said—I am a merchant residing in Hongkong. I have been in Hongkong for over fifteen years. I know Mr. Rapp.
In the early part of 1885 I was requested by the owner, Mr. Ortiz, to act for him in the sale of a Spanish schooner called "El Estrella." This schooner was known to Mr. Rapp, and he was a partner in blockhead & Co. for some years. Mr. Rapp was at one time a partner in Blockhead & Co.
The "El Estrella" was in port here when I was asked to sell it. Mr. Rapp was the one who was for sale, and came to see me about it, and I entered into agreement to sell him the ship for $20,000.
There was a written memorandum of agreement between Mr. Rapp and Mr. Ortiz, and the ship was sold to Mr. Rapp. Mr. Rapp had heard of certain troubles in connection with the ship, and I asked that he would go and see Mr.
Calderwell, who was our legal adviser in the matter.
We went together the same day to Mr. Calderwell.
Mr. Calderwell told me that the matter was settled, and that the ship was to be sold to Mr.
Rapp. About the 13th April the ship was arrived at the wharf of Mr. Macgregor Smith. I heard from Mr. Calderwell that the ship was arrived, and that Mr. Rapp had been informed by me that the ship was to be sold to him. I was perfectly willing to give him all the information in my power. It was arranged that the ship was to be sold to Mr. Rapp on the 30th of April, and that the money was to be paid to me. On the 30th of April I went to Mr. Rapp's office, and he told me that the ship was to be
